DEDICATION

We the Senior Class of 1956 dedicate this 1956

Tech Log to the Most Reverend Robert

Stephen Dehler, C.R., D.D., Titular Bishop of Clazomene, and Vicar Apostolic of Bermuda, consecrated on the feast of St.

Joseph, March 19, 1956 with a prayer that

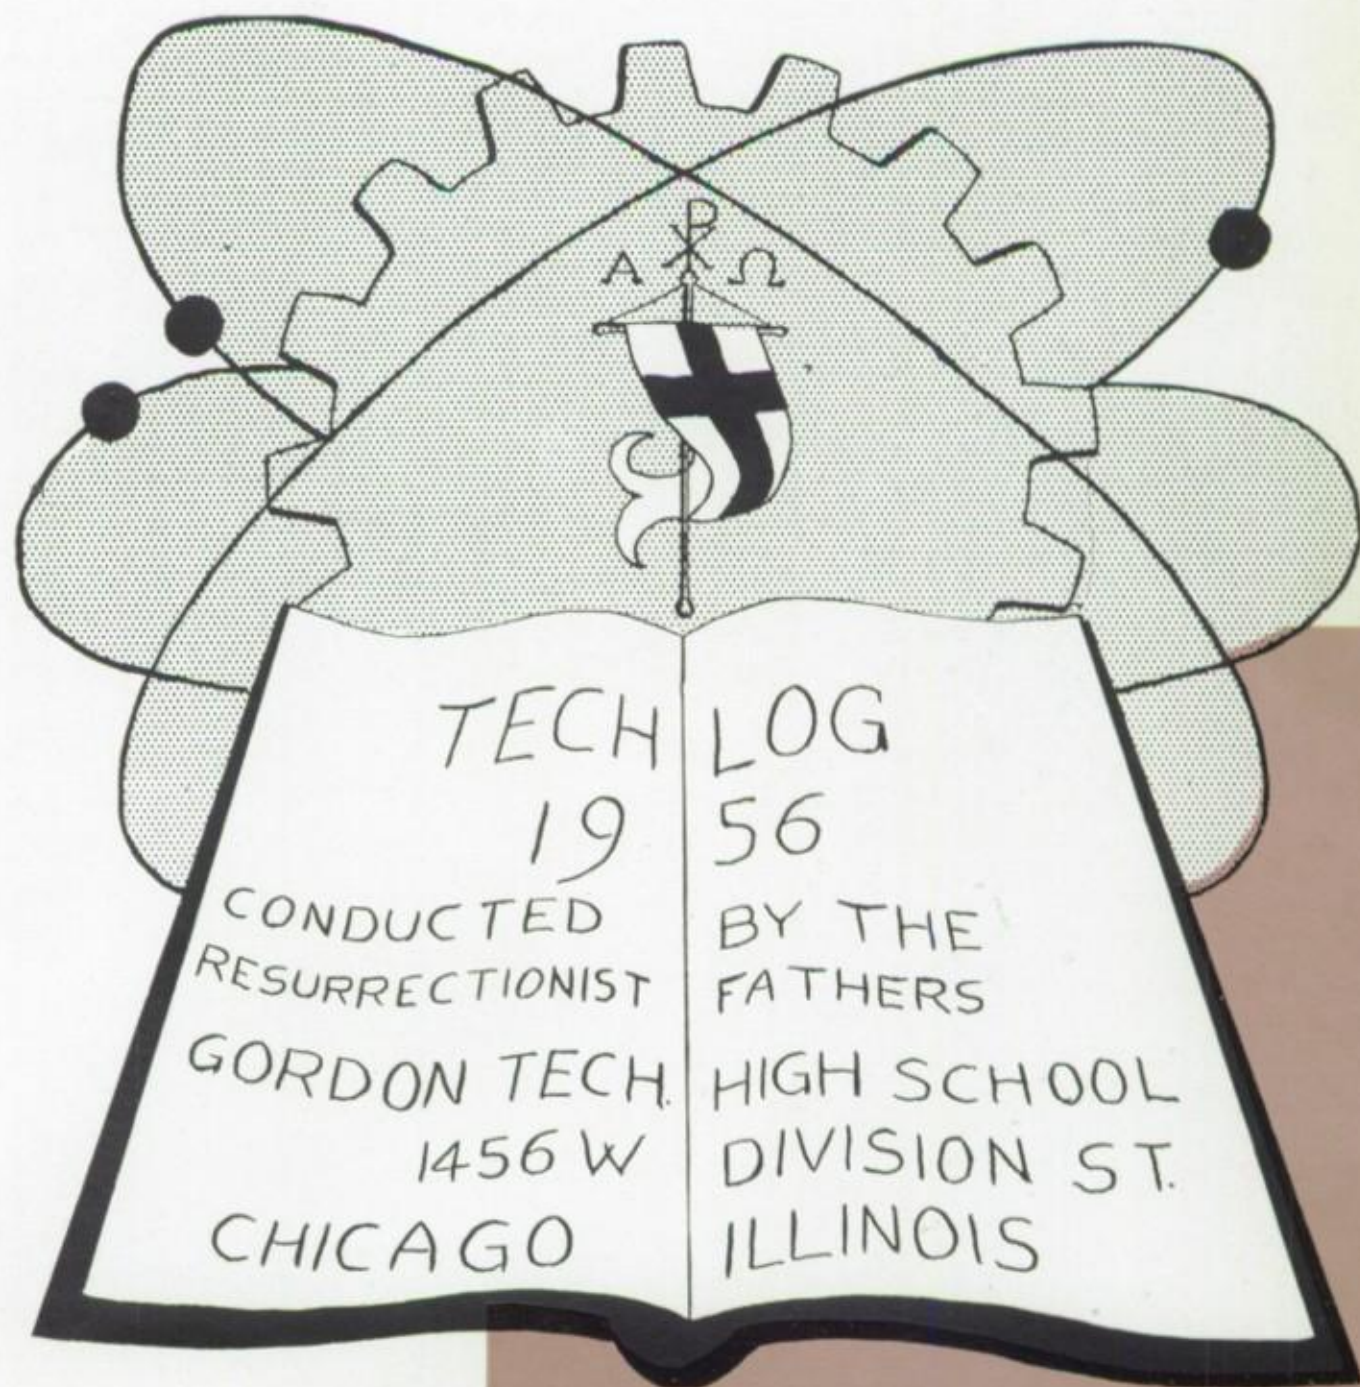

St. Joseph, Patron of the Universal Church, intercede for him and obtain for him

every necessary grace in his new field of labor.

THEME

A planning conference always precedes the decision to produce a new product in the industrial world. The raw material is then brought in, and the artisans began to work on it; first, the rough phase — the cutting, the shaping, the grinding; then the future product undergoes the finer treatment — the polishing, smoothing, and finishing. Finally, the finished product emerges — embellished, highly attractive, very saleable — another very successful product on the market of the world.

Here, at Gordon Technical High School, every student is considered as raw material to be worked upon to produce the "finished man" — a man truly in the image and likeness of God, who can enter the market of the world and make it better by his influence. The first year is like the planning conference at which the student is exposed to an all-around picture of what is before him educationally. The sophomore year is spent in shaping him by molding him to the desired form. In his junior year, he becomes quite smooth so that now there remain only the smallest chips to be chiselled off with the tiniest of strokes of education. Finally, as a senior, he is ready to emerge as a Tech-ite of whom the entire faculty is proud and eager to send out into the future, fully confident that he will influence his environment for the better rather than be influenced himself by that environment to his detriment.

A MESSAGE TO THE GRADUATES

Dear Graduates:

During these four years you have been delving into the rich mines of wisdom and experience. Almost daily your teachers have pointed out to you the many vistas and labyrinths—any of which will lead to success if you but follow them rightly. God grant that all of you reach successfully the goal for which you are striving!

Though you will reluctantly say farewell to the happy days spent within the walls of learning and bid Adieu to the teachers who have guided you through the years, to the classmates with whom you have made happy associations, you still will be bound by the sacred ties of your four-year association in high school . . . ties which will grow stronger with advancing years. Let us remain true to God . . . grateful to teachers . . . and ever loyal to our beloved Alma Mater. Adieu!

CLASSES

Founders of the Congregation of the Resurrection of Our Lord Jesus Christ.

THE PURPOSE OF EDUCATION

The Founders of the Congregation of the Resurrection have left a rich heritage for their spiritual sons in the field of education. They have ever stressed that it is not information or purely intellectual learning which constitutes the end of education but rather character formation. This character formation was to be along supernatural lines so that the end product might be a Christian Gentleman imbued with supernatural principles.

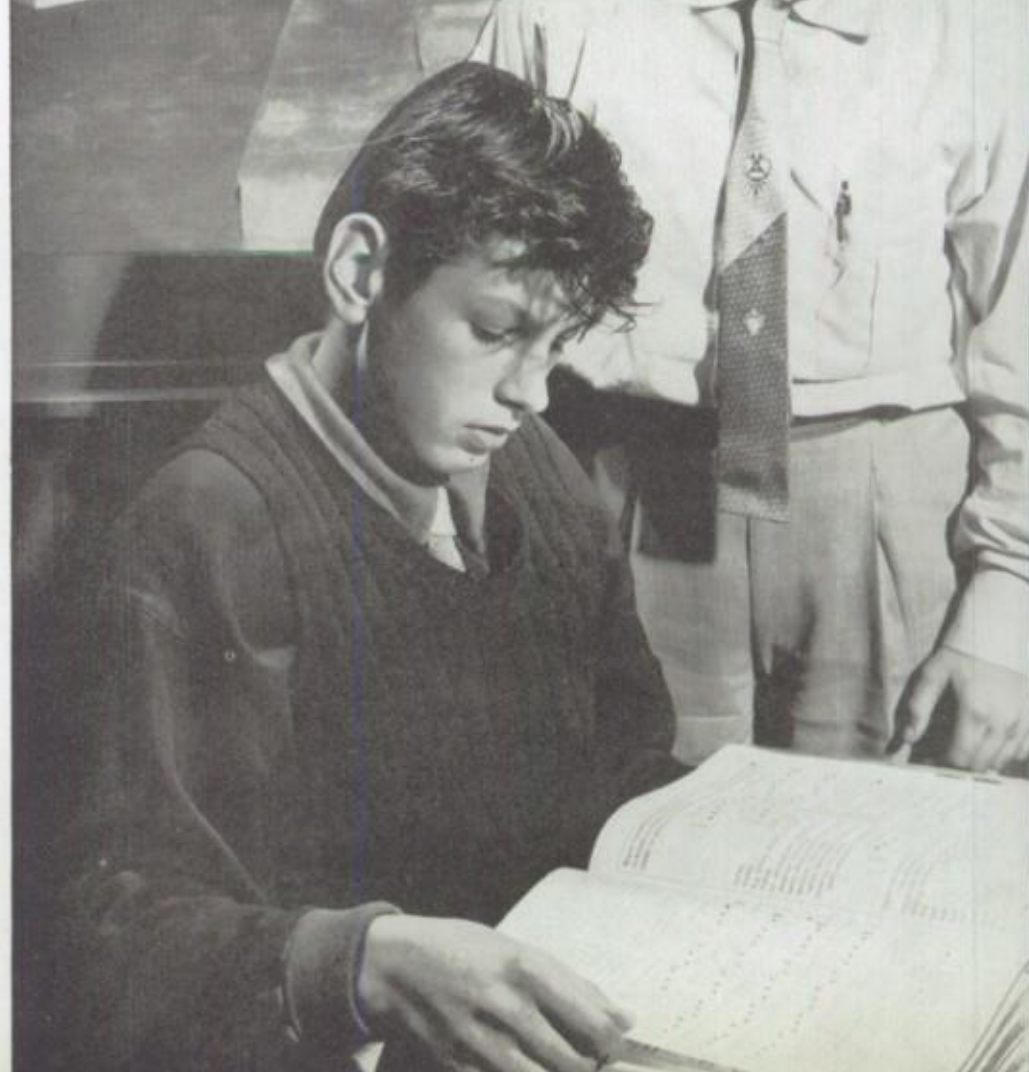

To accomplish this end, the first task of a student in school will be to learn to labor. This they considered more important than a pure acquisition of knowledge or the passing of examinations. A studious, diligence is a trait impressed in the soul for all time, an accomplishment for life. The supervision so necessary in education may be at times superfluous, and even harmful, if a pupil becomes habituated to do nothing without it. Hence to teach him to be industrious, even though control weigh heavily upon him to work, not from fear or even in view of superlative success in the classroom but from a sense of duty alone, is an achievement worthy of Christian education. This sense of duty is a monitor, as it were, whom nothing can supplant, and it may be truly said, that only he is well educated who hears and hearkens to the voice of this monitor in his soul. For a young man to acquire this perfect education, it is imperative, that he first learn to reflect within himself, become introspective, reckon with his conscience, judge himself aright and in case of necessity even condemn himself, but above all, that he know how to be industrious, encountering adversity unflinchingly.

As members of society, the students must be taught to become good citizens. However, they must be convinced that they cannot be good citizens unless they are good Catholics. They will serve their country best only when they get rid of their defects which each nationality has as its peculiar characteristic.

RELIGION

The study of Religion at the Gordon Technical High School receives the most important consideration because it and it alone prepares the Gordonite for the kind of life that fulfills and reaches its final purpose. In view of the impact of secularistic attitudes on the American way of life, special practical as well as theoretical values are imparted to the student, so that forewarned as well as fore-armed, he can rise above the mediocre in whatever walk of life he will choose.

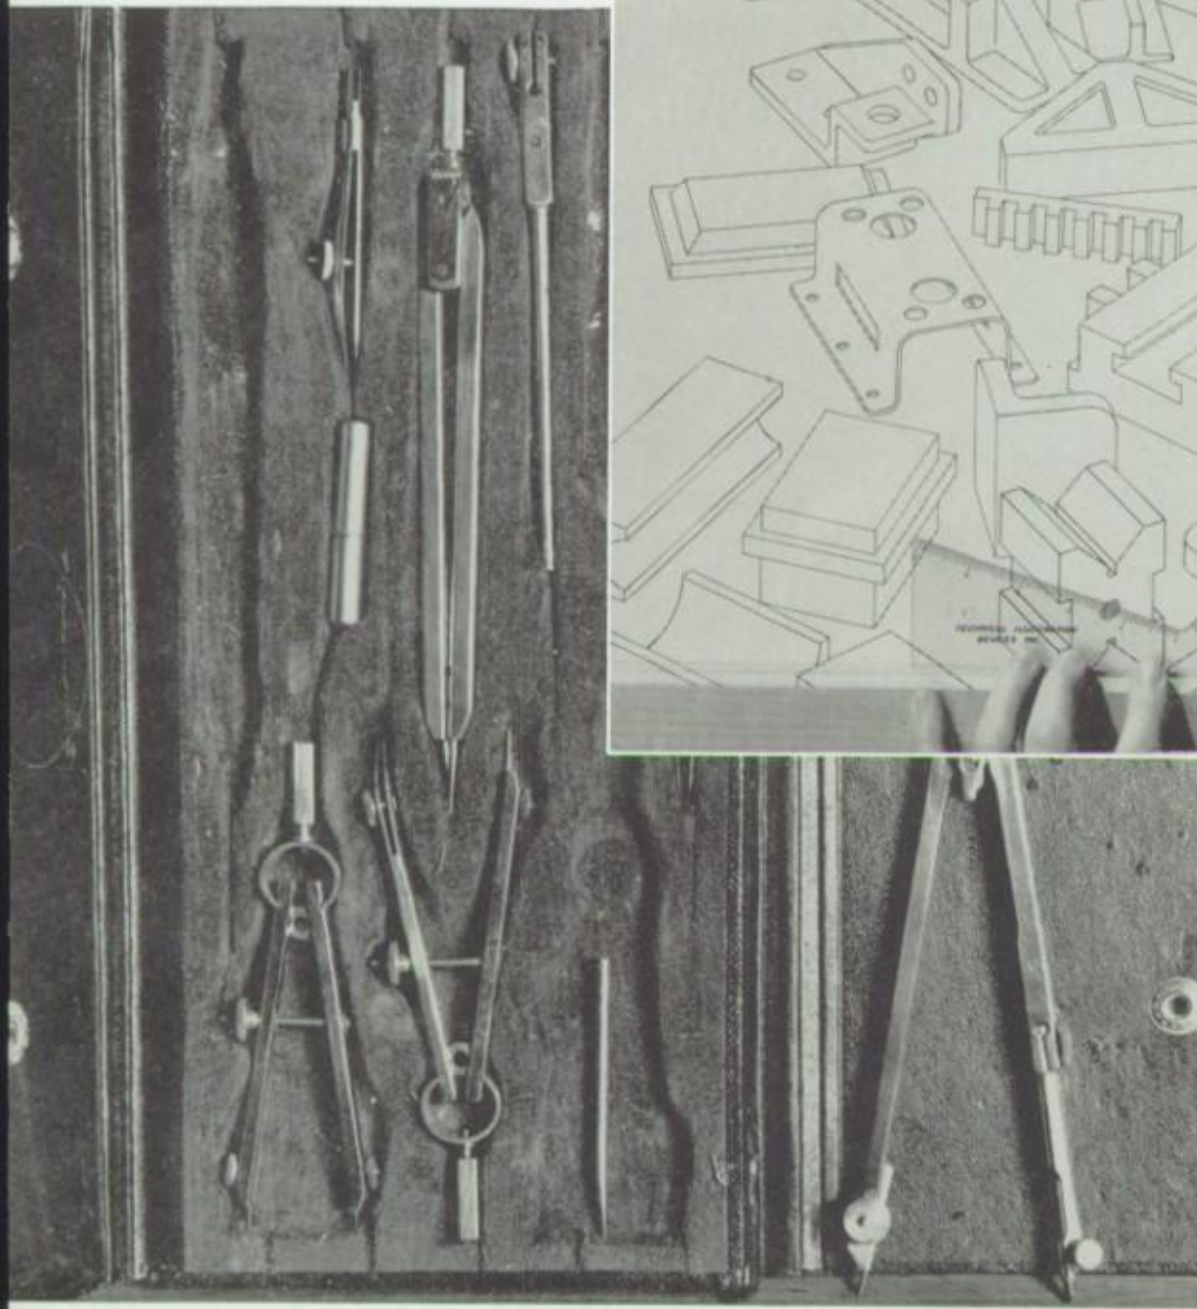

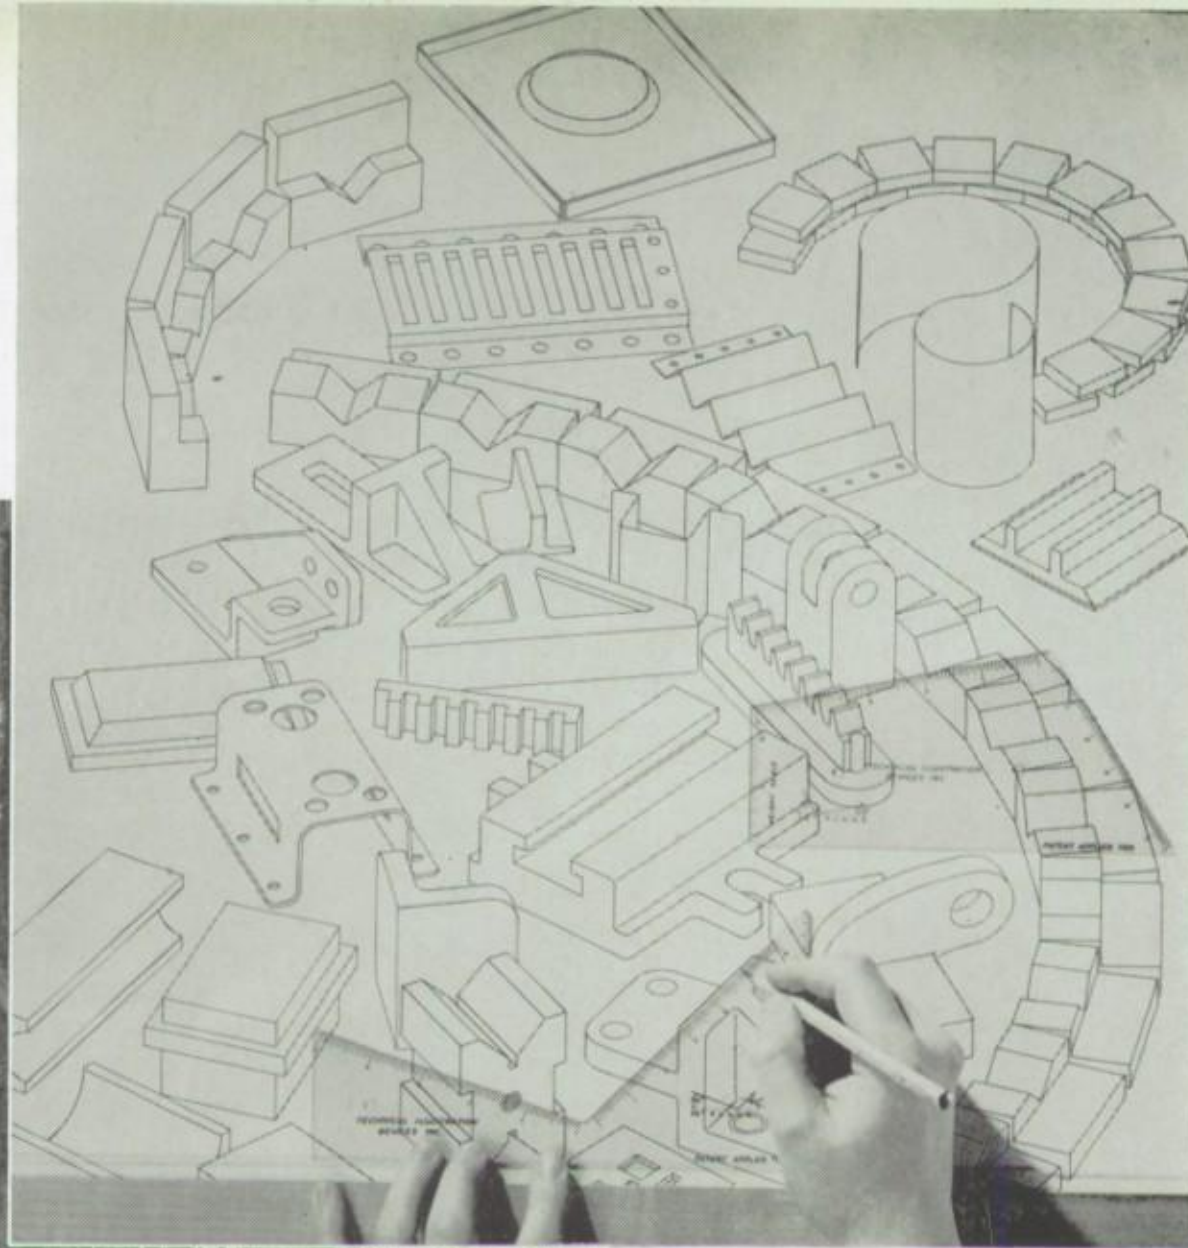

Sophomore class in a mechanical drawing session.

Engineering and science enter into the affairs of everyday living to such an extent today that it is impossible to remain informed on events and progress without some facility in reading the unique language of Industry — Mechanical Drawing.

MECHANICAL DRAWING

Instruments used in mechanical drawing.

Completing a drafting sketch.

Here at Gordon Tech, the two-year course in Mechanical Drawing is so set up that it will develop the Gordonite's powers of visualization, strengthen his creative imagination, train him in precision and exactness of thought, teach him to read and write in the language of the Industries, and give him the practical experience of making working drawings.

WOODSHOP

A freshman working intently at his project.

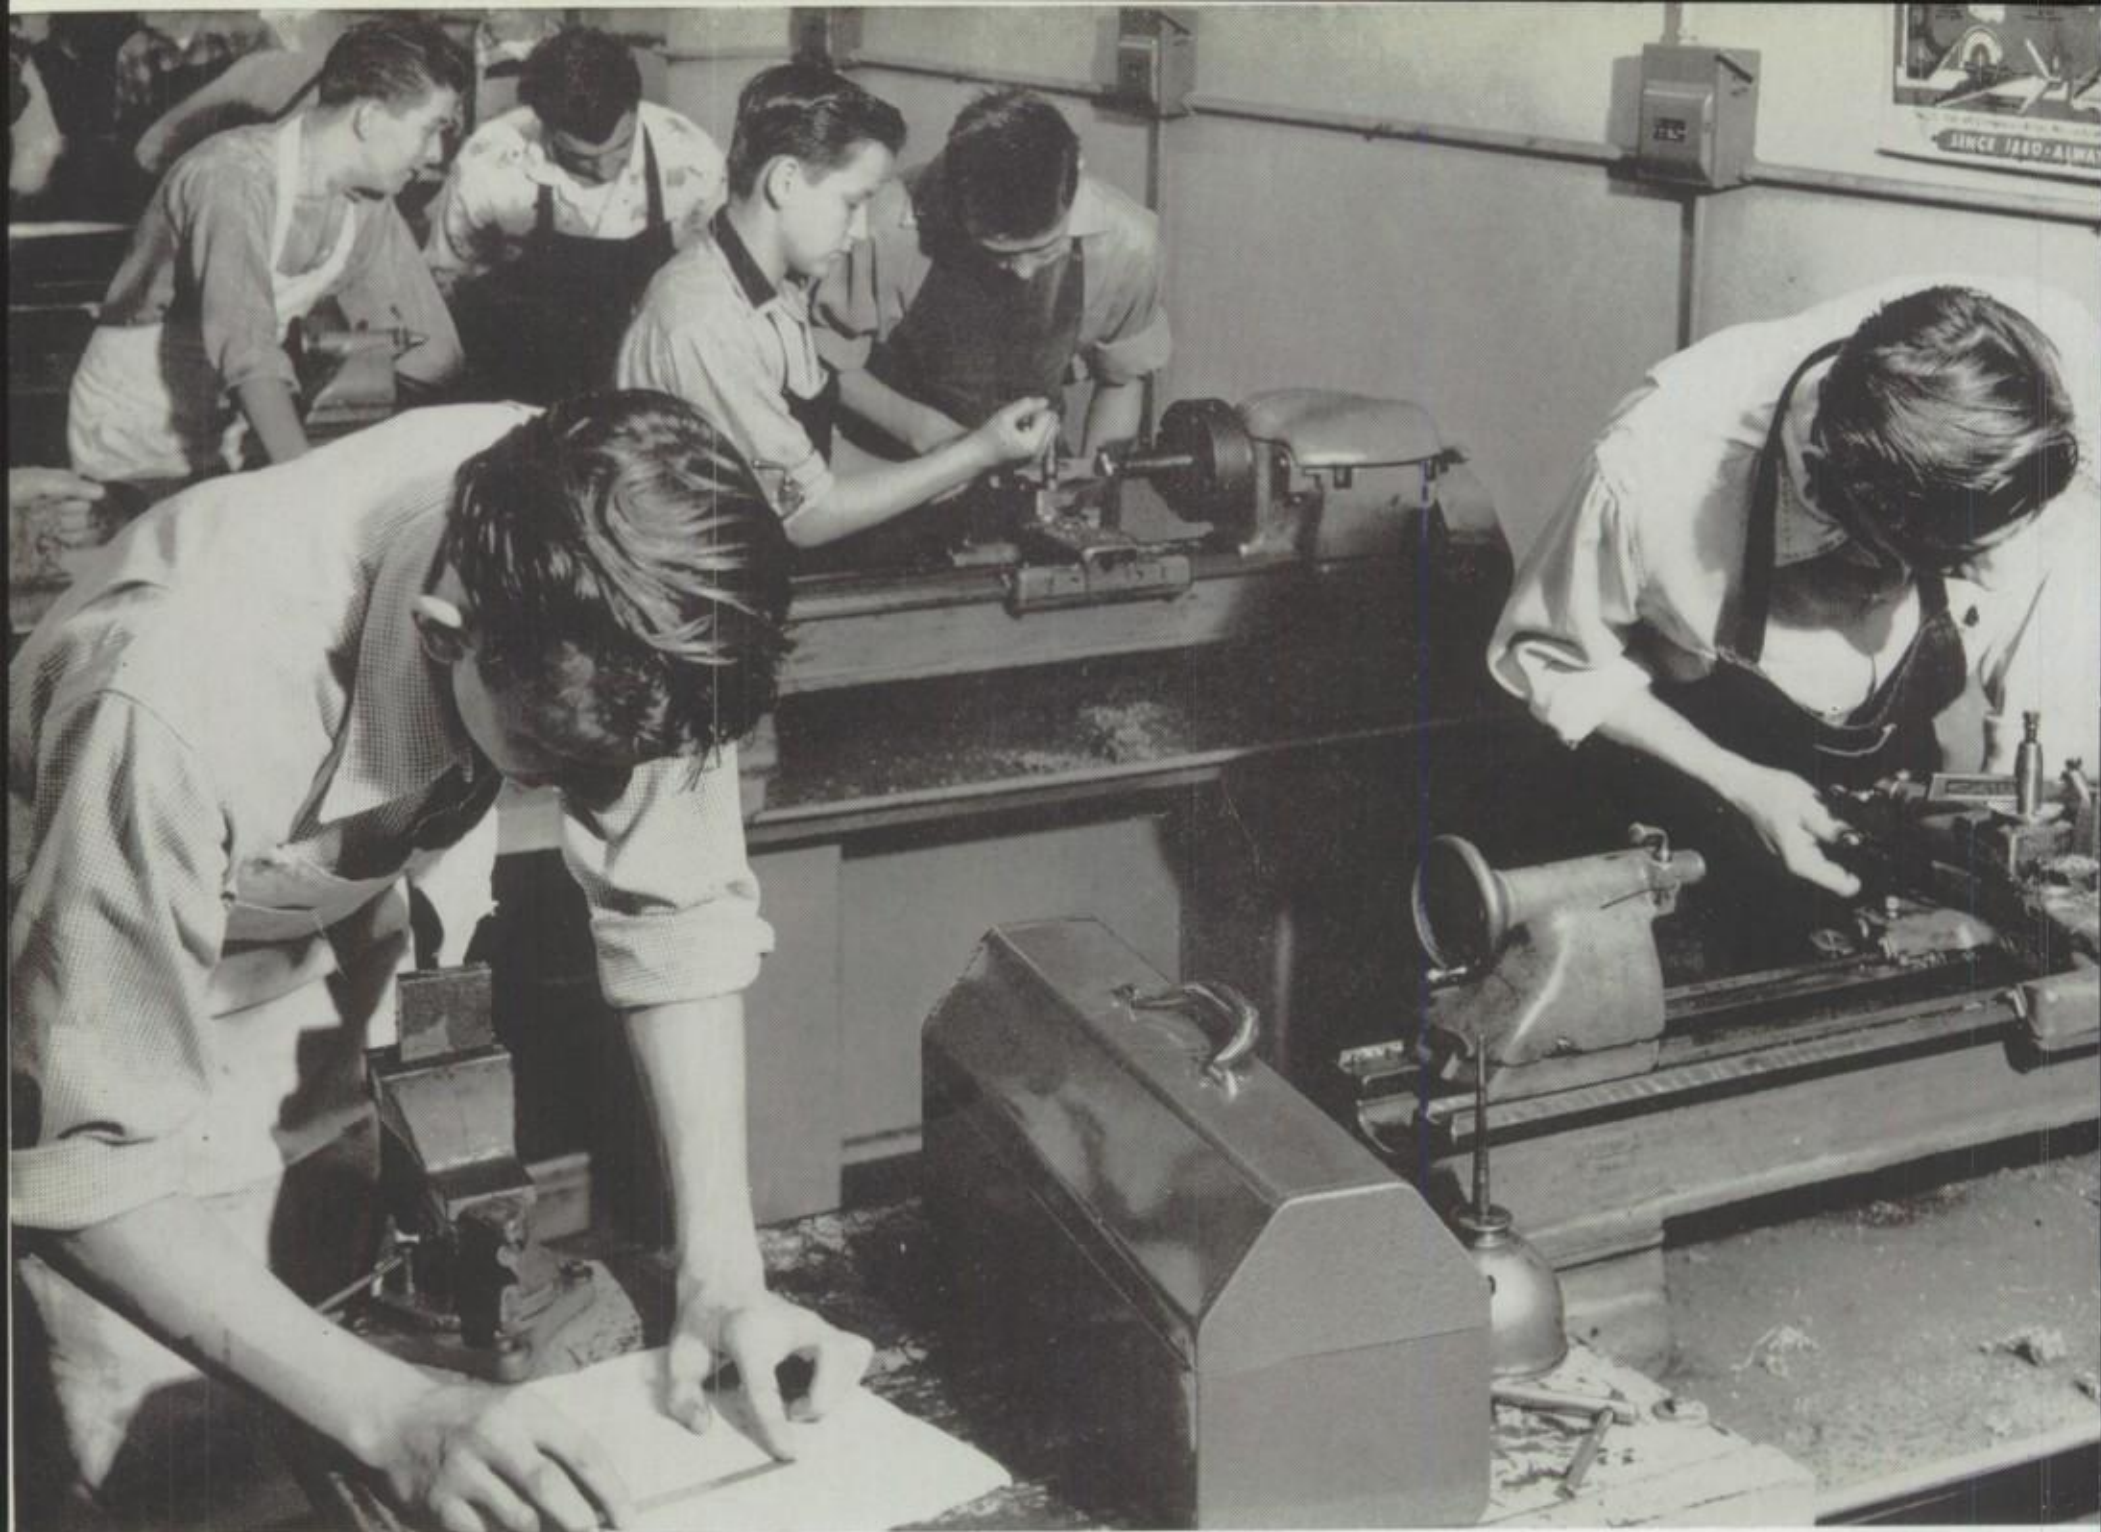

Even before the rise of the Roman Empire artisans in wood were engaged in the framing and in the construction of ships. In these United States, in colonial times, the woodsman and the wood-worker were busy with the cutting down of trees, hewing them into timbers, and the shaping of shingles for the homes that had to be provided for the early settlers.

As civilization developed and the homes were provided, work in wood became an art. Today, the woodworker must be very skilful both with the hand and machine tools to keep pace with the demands of modern living.

The freshman at Gordon Tech is brought up-to-date with woodworking both theoretically and practically. He soon learns to select the materials for his project, to lay out and dimension the finest object, and to make as well as read blue prints. The numerous projects in the woodshop give him the opportunity to acquire a dexterity with both the hand and machine tools.

Sophomores preparing equipment and material for projects.

MACHINE SHOP

At the beginning it is just a round piece of steel, somewhat dusty and sometimes stained. At the end it is a very sleek looking screwdriver, properly tempered and highly polished, with a knurled handle for easy handling. In between the beginning and the end, the student at Gordon Tech puts in a great deal of "know how" into his project. Selection of the material, the cutting and shaping processes, grinding, tempering, and polishing — just a few of the processes in the making of a hand tool.

The Machine Shop at Gordon Tech offers many opportunities to the Tech-ite to ground himself fundamentally in all of the interesting phases of preparation for the machinist trade.

Sophomores working at bench.

ELECTRIC SHOP

Electricity, in less than 75 years, has transformed our entire mode of living. Today, the modern home is a veritable "House of Magic". The invisible genie — the electron — at a flick of the switch — goes to work lighting and heating our homes and making them more comfortable to live in. This same genie, harnessed and controlled in the vacuum tube, or in the more modern transistor, fills our homes with music and song and floods the living room with pictures of world-wide events and progress as soon as they are happening.

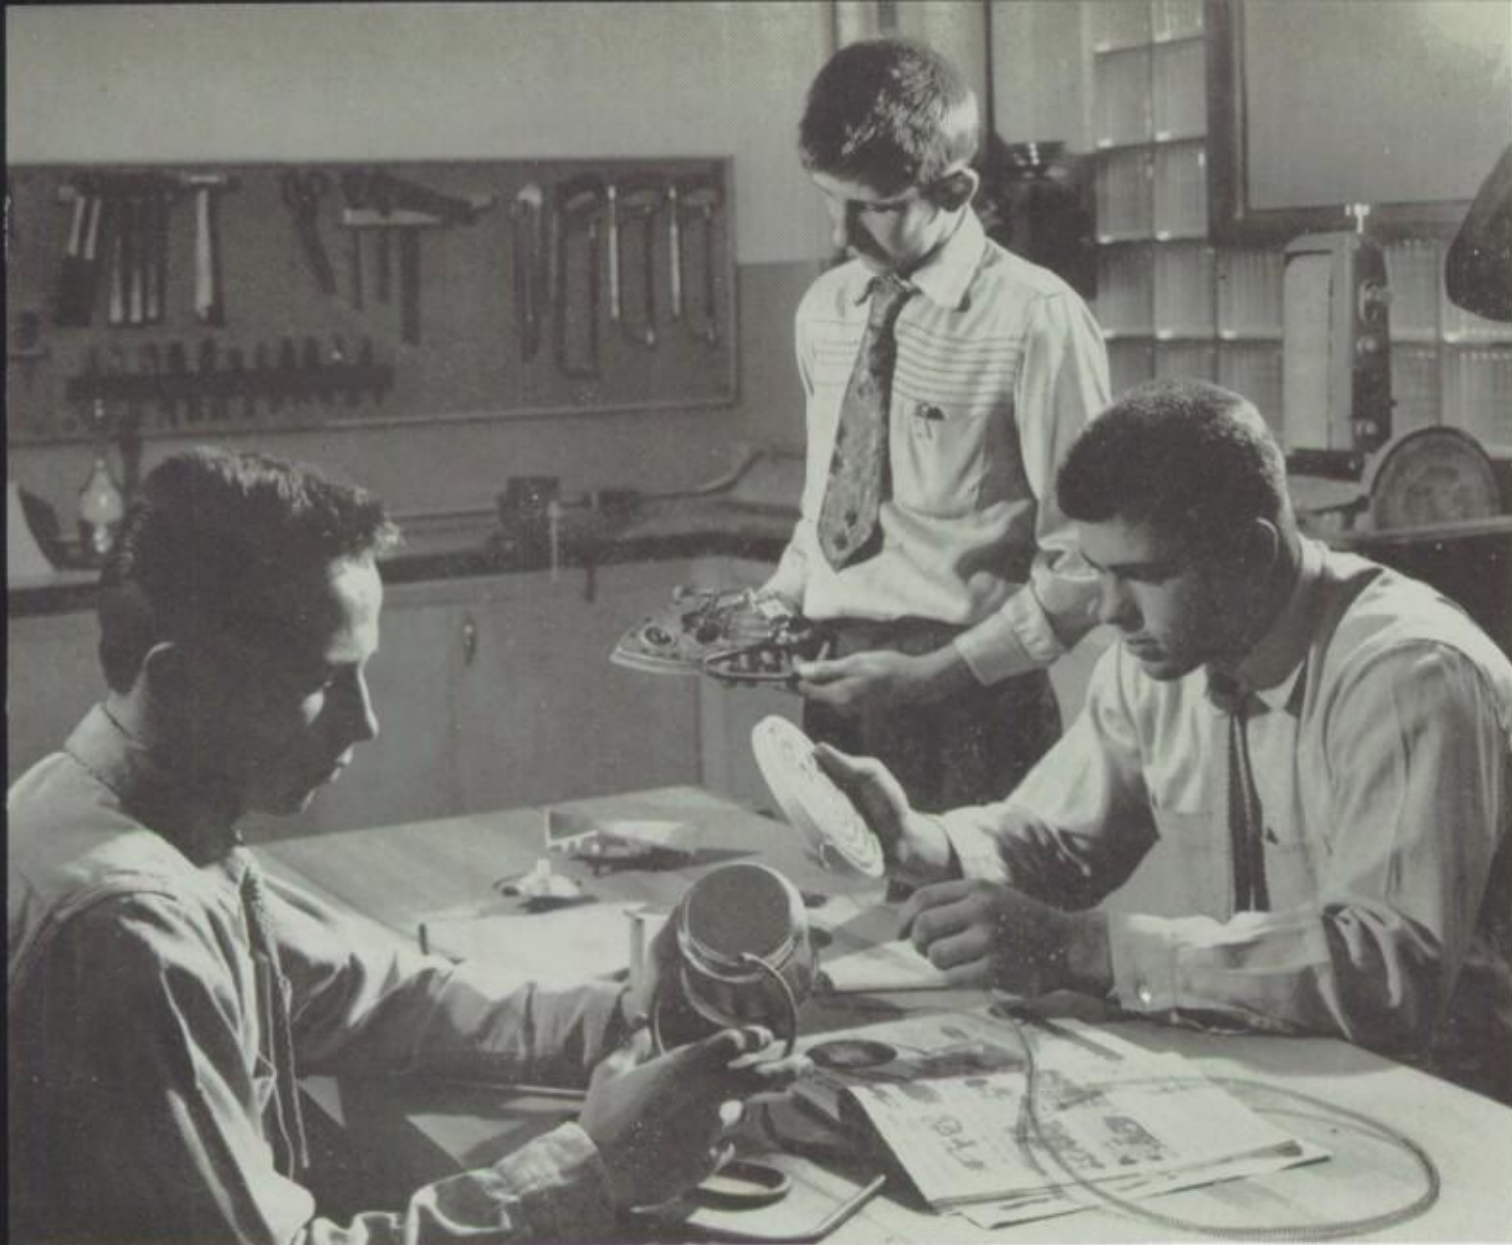

The junior at Gordon Tech is introduced to electricity both in theory and in practice. The course is so designed as to impress the student with the importance of a knowledge of electricity. Since all of us live so dependently on electricity, it is important to know as much about it as possible, that it may the more easily and more efficiently be put to work as America's magic servant.

AUTO SHOP

The automobile industry had a banner year in 1955. It was a far cry from the year 1900 when automobiles began to be produced in some quantity. Today it is at its biggest. With this growth of the industry there developed a problem of maintenance — faster and more efficient repair. Today, even the mechanic must be familiar with certain scientific equipment which will facilitate his work. And this is more true for the automotive engineer who plans to work in the industry which is fast undergoing automation.

The Auto Shop at Gordon Tech offers an exploratory course to the student to acquaint him both with the production and the maintenance of the automobile. Well equipped in engines of all types, the shop gives the student ample opportunity of working on them and carrying out the various tests which prove the power of an engine.

Since Gordon Technical High School is committed to the cause of preparing the youth of today technologically, the administration has included a four year program in mathematics. Without mathematics, there can be no talk of technology, for mathematics is the proverbial corner-stone of its very structure.

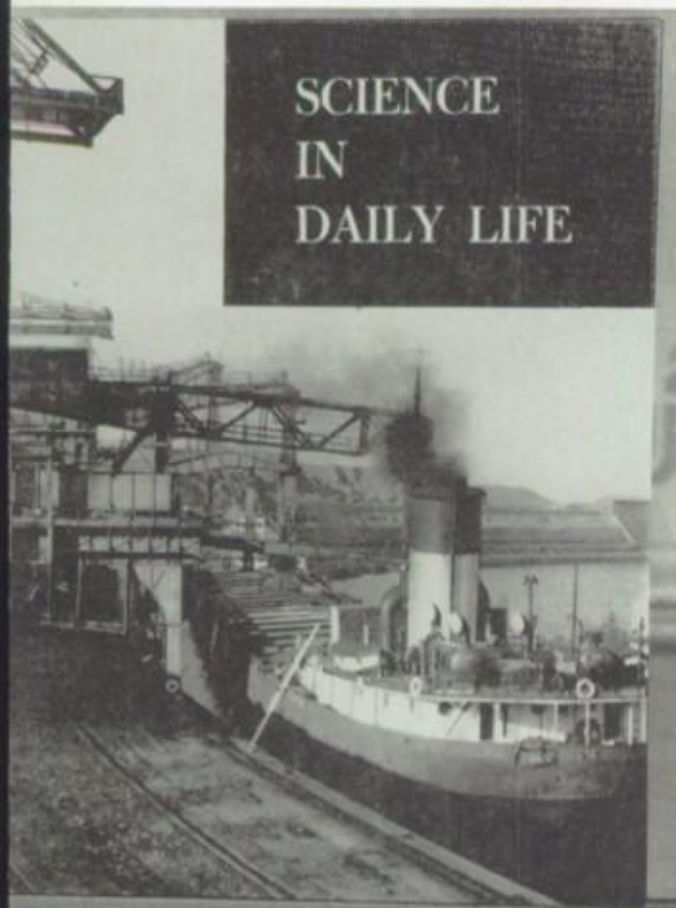

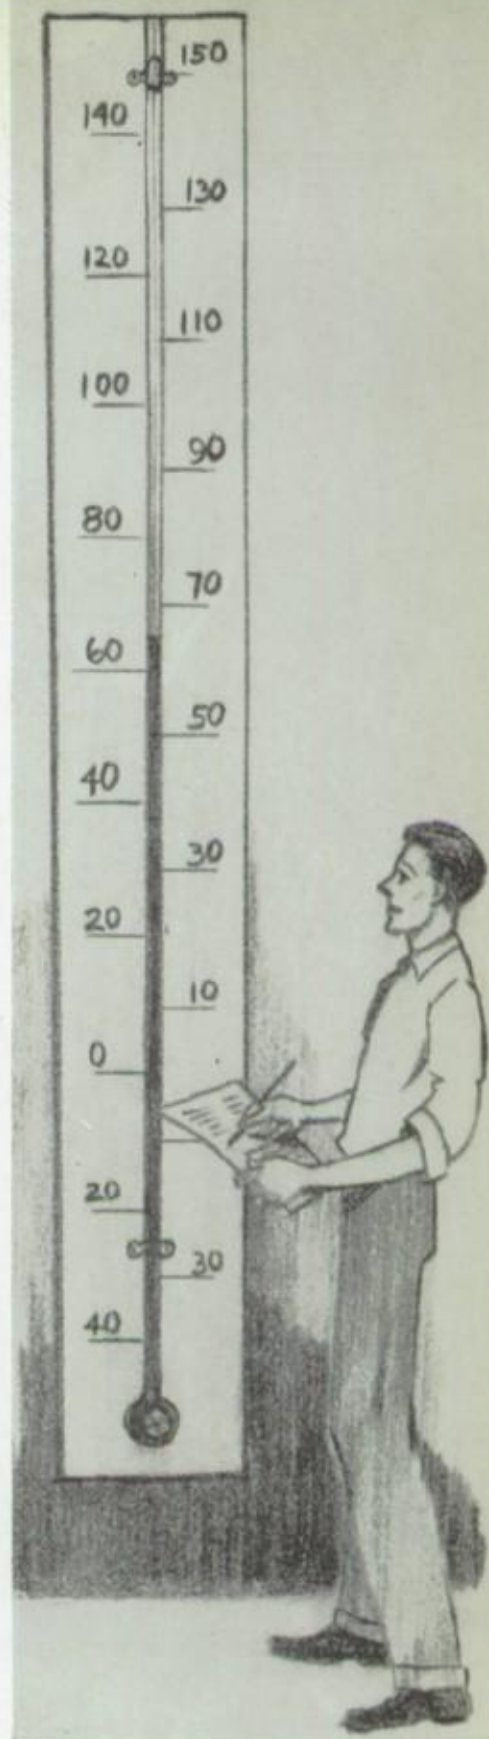

GENERAL SCIENCE

At the very beginning of his high school career, the Gordonite is introduced to the mysteries of science which comprise the fundamental basis of his technical knowledge. In General Science, he is given an over-all picture of how best the various sciences can serve man. A much fuller and profound appreciation of God's infinite wisdom is the result of the study of Nature that He created. The study is supplemented with numerous projects to enable the student to acquaint himself practically with the adaptability of scientific theories to practical living.

D. Camis observes as F. Opalony sketches project on black-board.

CHEMISTRY

The object of Chemistry is to study the myriad changes in both the organic and inorganic worlds. The many compounds and elements are brought forth in the laboratory where the chemistry experiments provide many intriguing hours. Precision of observation and the control of the chemical changes form the basis of the attempts at prediction of what will happen under given circumstances by our budding chemists.

Since man has pierced the nucleus of the atom, the science of physics has taken on a vitality that seems boundless. The students at Gordon Technical High School get well acquainted with such principles as those of Newton and Dalton and, at the same time, keep pace with all progress that is being made today.

ENGLISH IN ACTION

FIFTH EDITION

TRESSLER COURSE III

Freshmen listen attentively as English grammar is explained to them.

ENGLISH

The study of English is indispensable in a technical high school because unless a student can express his ideas in writing and orally much of his knowledge becomes useless. Especially will this prove to be true in the future when reports will have to be written up on experiments demonstrated in the various fields of technological endeavor.

HISTORY

Mr. Pasecky conducting an oral history quiz.

Mr. Wenc explaining "good neighbor" policy to R. Sychalski, W. Lewis, R. Incardone, J. Strenski, and R. Gay.

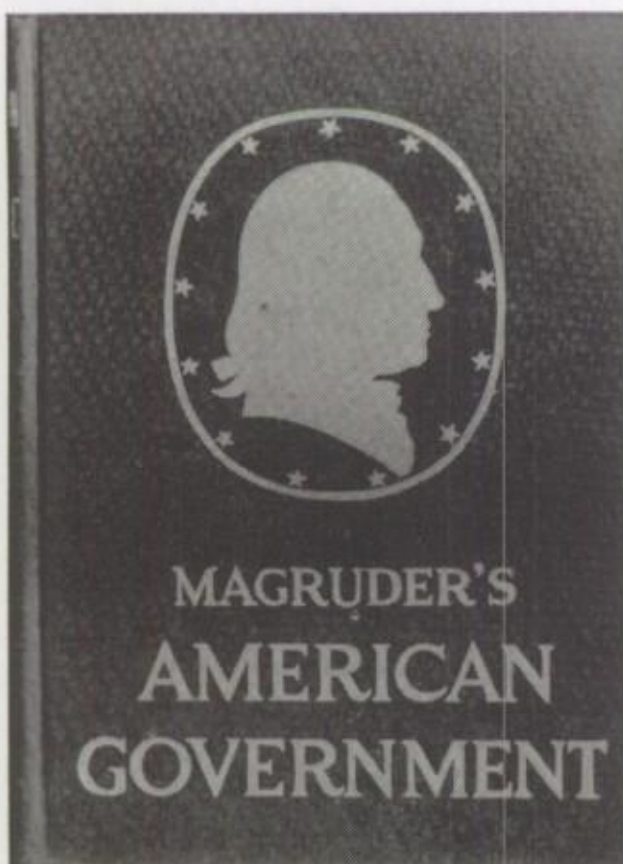

The teaching of history at Gordon Tech aims to imbuing the student with the desire of how best he can contribute of his efforts toward bringing about the sorely needed more peaceful and better world. This he can do, however, only with the aid of a sincere desire and attempt on his part to understand man's successes and failures in the past. Only having acquired this can he help his fellow man not to repeat the errors of the past. He then can help every man enjoy the human rights with which God had created him.

CIVICS

The study of Civics is one of the most vital courses at Gordon Tech. In it the student learns how laws are made, policies of the country set, the function of the administration. The responsibilities of patriotism are treated in fullest detail. The student learns that the right of voting is not only a privilege but an obligation as well. He also learns that the exercise of this right in later years can spare our country from a fate similar to that met by nations behind the iron and bamboo curtains.

E. Scheffler at typewriter during typing class.

Typing has once again appeared in the curriculum of the seniors as an elective. This is just another way of providing the students at Gordon Tech with the opportunity of acquiring another vehicle to facilitate their work in later years. Typing is an invaluable time-saver for the busy man, not to mention the fact that it adds to the work the desired neat and business-like appearance.

LATIN

J. Witek parses Latin sentence for K. Zawislak, R. Pelz, and D. Bednarz.

Fr. L. Kurlandski, C. R. explains Latin construction to D. Gregory and R. Lejman.

Although listed as an elective, the students of Gordon Technical High School are encouraged to study Latin because it is such an excellent mental discipline and because it is practically invaluable to the technician. A most precise language, it inculcates in the student an exactness and precision of speech and expression thus becoming a worthy helpmate to the English language and the technical studies.

SPANISH

The Spanish class listens intently to Mr. Cagney's explanation of Spanish constructions.

Mr. Cagney corrects Spanish sentences as S. Koziol and R. Bik observe.

With so much progress being made south of the border and in other Spanish speaking countries, the administration finds it expedient to offer its students a chance to learn Spanish. Another language — another man — might be said. Although it is listed as an elective, it is just another tool offered at the school to those who would avail themselves of every opportunity to keep apace with progress.

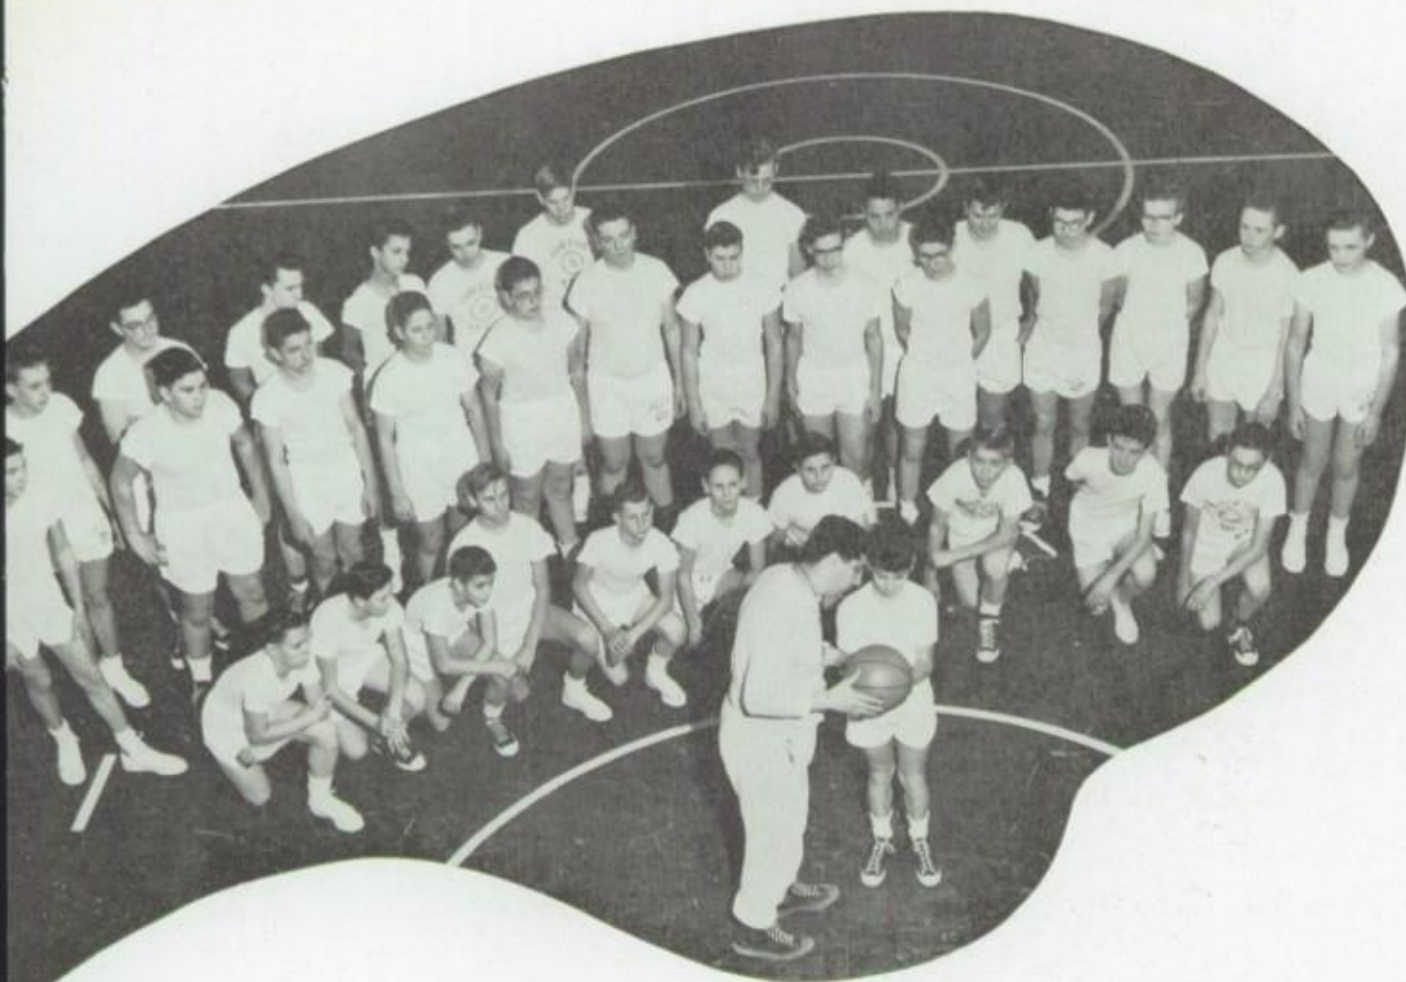

DRIVER TRAINING

Fr. Bies, C.R. administering one of the many psychophysical tests to R. Milano while Sojka tests his own ability in judging distance.

The dual-controls are explained to Sojka, Pradzinski, Makas, and Cielec.

With the concentrated effort for an "all-out safety" program in Illinois, Gordon Tech introduced the Driver-Training course which embraces both the classroom and road phases. Stress is laid here to engender proper attitudes concerning man and the auto. Courtesy and safety-first, along with an alertness to driving conditions, might be called the theme of this course. Emphasis is placed upon the fact that driving is not a right, but a privilege to be exercised conscientiously. Written tests and road practices are given with the hope of building confidence in the future driver.

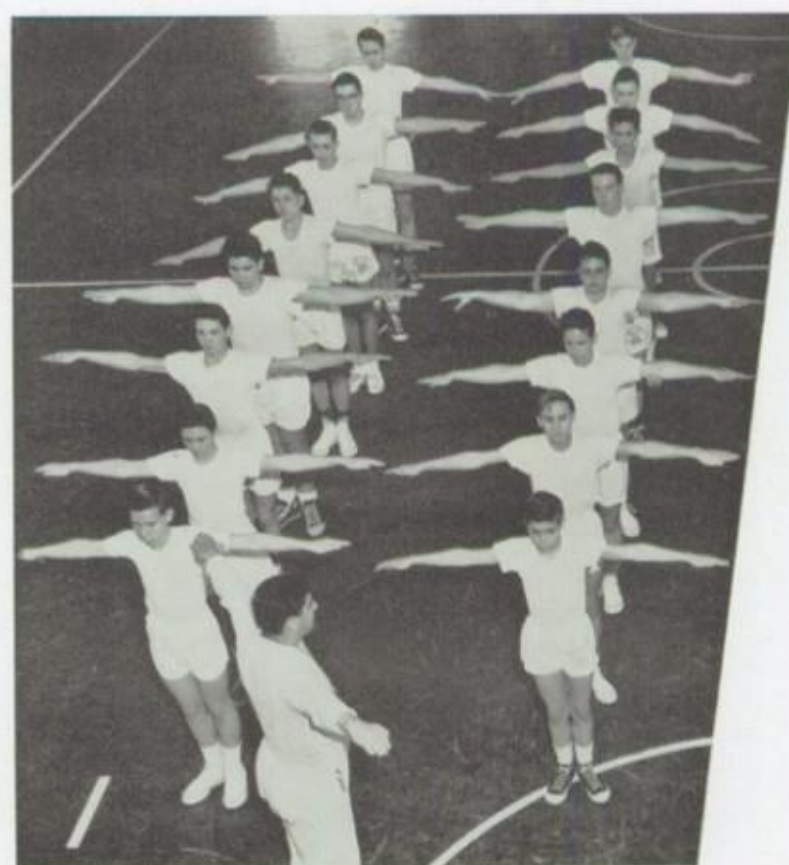

Mr. J. DiGiovanni coaching intra-mural sport.

A sound body is a great boon to the forging of a sound mind. Immediately upon his entrance to Gordon Tech until the student leaves her portals as a graduate, his physical welfare is supervised with the greatest care.

All forms of intra-mural sports are provided, in addition to the regular Gym and Health classes. Team-work becomes a by-word to the student as he learns that, despite his excellence, he still has need of others in a contest. He learns tolerance of others to the extent that he tries the harder to make amends for the lacks of others. Above all he is forced to make quick and definite decisions which make for that flexibility of mind to adjust to the most unexpected of circumstances.

The Health Class provides him with the theoretical as well as practical knowledge for the care of his body which makes the life of the whole man so much easier both physically and spiritually.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The program of student activities has been expanded during the past year by the formation of the Student Council by which self-government was put largely into the hands of the students. There seems to be no better way to learn the priceless ideals of true democracy than to put them into practice and make them work. Although supervision still is vested in the authority of the school, the students have the opportunity to help in its practice — thus making it a government of the students, for the students, and by the students.

EPILOGUE

Graduation this year will launch the first genuine Gordon Tech ship on the waters of the world. The present senior class is the first that enrolled at the newly founded Gordon Technical High School four years ago; the two previous graduating classes originally had enrolled while Gordon Tech was still a technical branch of the Weber High School. With the change in name came autonomy for Gordon Tech — autonomy from Weber High School.

Our present seniors learned the lesson of independence well and early. Supplemented by their study of American History and Civics, they used this lesson during their senior year to give to the student body a small part of self-government by founding with the permission of the school authorities the Student Council, a new first at Gordon Tech.

When the seniors of 1955-1956 first entered the new Gordon Tech they were just as imbued with the making of progress as was the school itself. There was a great deal to accomplish, and it was largely due to their efforts in the Magazine Sales Drives of 1952 and 1953 that large contributions could be made for the school's first football equipment, the school bus, and the initial equipment of the school band.

So, as we grow older and are about to leave Gordon Tech, we have a large number of very fine memories to recall. The finest of these, however, is the memory that we have remained faithful to all the fine traditions that were begun by those who came before us. Such, for example, was our Cisca Holy Hour Activity which continued to bring the Cisca Boys' Banner back to Gordon Tech month after month.

DRAMA

The purpose of the Drama Club is not the mere production and presentation of plays but its end is also to prepare the student for later life by giving them poise, self-confidence and self-assurance in facing an audience. It affords the students facilities for the exercise of their literary and oratorical abilities. Working together with others as a unit the Gordonite learns the spirit of co-operation. The fruit of this year's dramatic effort was seen in the first stage play presented by the "Masqueteers" in "Brother Orchid," written by Leo Brady of Catholic University of America.

LIBRARY

The library at Gordon Technical High School is very well equipped since it contains not only the standard volumes and encyclopedias found in other high school libraries, but over and above this, there is a special section devoted to the field of Technology and Electronics. Constant effort is made to bring the tomes up to the present day. Students find this a veritable oasis to prepare their classwork and to do research in various subjects assigned by the faculty.

THE YOUNG CHRISTIAN STUDENTS

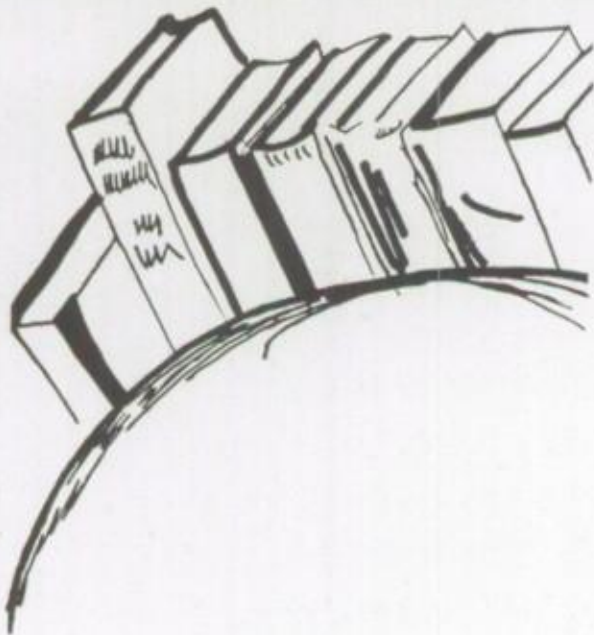

The object and theme of the Young Christian Students Movement is found in the sentence "Christian Believing Means Christian Living". The Y.C.S. has as its objective the restoration of the practice of Christian living to the student environment and attitude as well as the institutions they attend. This is done through discussions on subjects pertinent to their way of life, held at regular meetings in their schools.

Sophomore Y. C. S. Group—J. Gier, D. Gregory, J. Gniadek, D. Bednarz, R. Biesiada.

The Stamp Club in preparation for its annual drive for stamps for the missions.

"Save Stamps, Save Souls!" has been the inspiring motto which prompted the students to bring cancelled stamps. Each class has a Pilot who gathers these stamps and these in turn are sent to St. John Cantius Seminary, St. Louis, Missouri. There the seminarians sell these stamps to interested dealers of stamps. The funds obtained from the sale of these stamps are used for missions.

Last year the Gordonites won first place in this contest drive for stamps. Thus, in this manner the students participate in the spreading of the Gospel to less fortunate souls.

The third edition of the "Tech Log" once again is the result of co-operation on the part of a fine staff. Mirroring the school year 1955 - 1956, it aims at giving a picture of the students' happy educational and social life at our school. Every effort has been expended to portray our life at this institution honestly and boldly.

Roller skating for beginners.

"Time-out" for a coke between skating sessions.

M. Salzinski didn't "quite make it."

SKATING

Four skating parties, spaced conveniently through the school year, proved to be the best liked of the social activities. They also proved financially successful, so that worthwhile contributions could be made to other activities which do not have similar financial returns.

Probably the principal reason why skating parties are such well-liked activities is because there is never any dearth of girls. The skating party is a very important tool for the social growth of the Gordonite. Students from most of the surrounding schools are invited and the skating party becomes a "Mecca" for meeting new faces and making new friends.

DANCE

L. Murzyn purchasing dance tickets for his date from R. Gesinske as J. Pawula and Fr. L. Cukierski, C. R., look on.

The famed "Bunny Hop."

Dancing proves a most interesting pastime for the typical Gordon Tech-ite. A number of dances, beginning with the most popular "Kick-off" Dance which is held just prior to opening the annual football season, are always well attended. It is getting to be quite traditional at Gordon Tech to have one or more celebrities, of Radio or TV, attend the dance. It is also a way for the Tech-ite to grow out of his stumbling adolescence gracefully and enter young manhood without too much of a mental upheaval. Well-supervised by the religious and lay faculty of Gordon Tech, the dances seem to grow bigger and bigger and more popular with each succeeding dance.

MOTHERS' CLUB

Everyone acquainted with the Mothers' Club of Gordon Technical High School knows the tremendous capacity for aid it has rendered to the school. The mothers' time, energy, and work is proof of their interest in the material welfare of Gordon Tech. A most recent exemplification of the concentrated effort of this club was the purchase of a new station wagon for the school. May God reward the good mothers for their loyalty and service to the school.

FATHERS' CLUB

Last year we wrote that perhaps it was the youth of the Fathers' Club as an organization that made its energy seem boundless. We are glad to report this year that ageing in the Fathers' Club is a very graceful process. Like the daring young man, the Fathers' Club continues to expand lavishly of its energy for the good of the students and the school. Highlights of the past year were the First Annual Picnic, Sunday, August 14th, 1955, the Second Annual Dance, Saturday, February 4th, 1956, and the Second Annual Easter Party, Tuesday, March 13th, 1956.

COMMENCEMENT

Commencement Speaker, His Eminence Cardinal Thomas Tien, S. V. D., D. D., exiled from China.

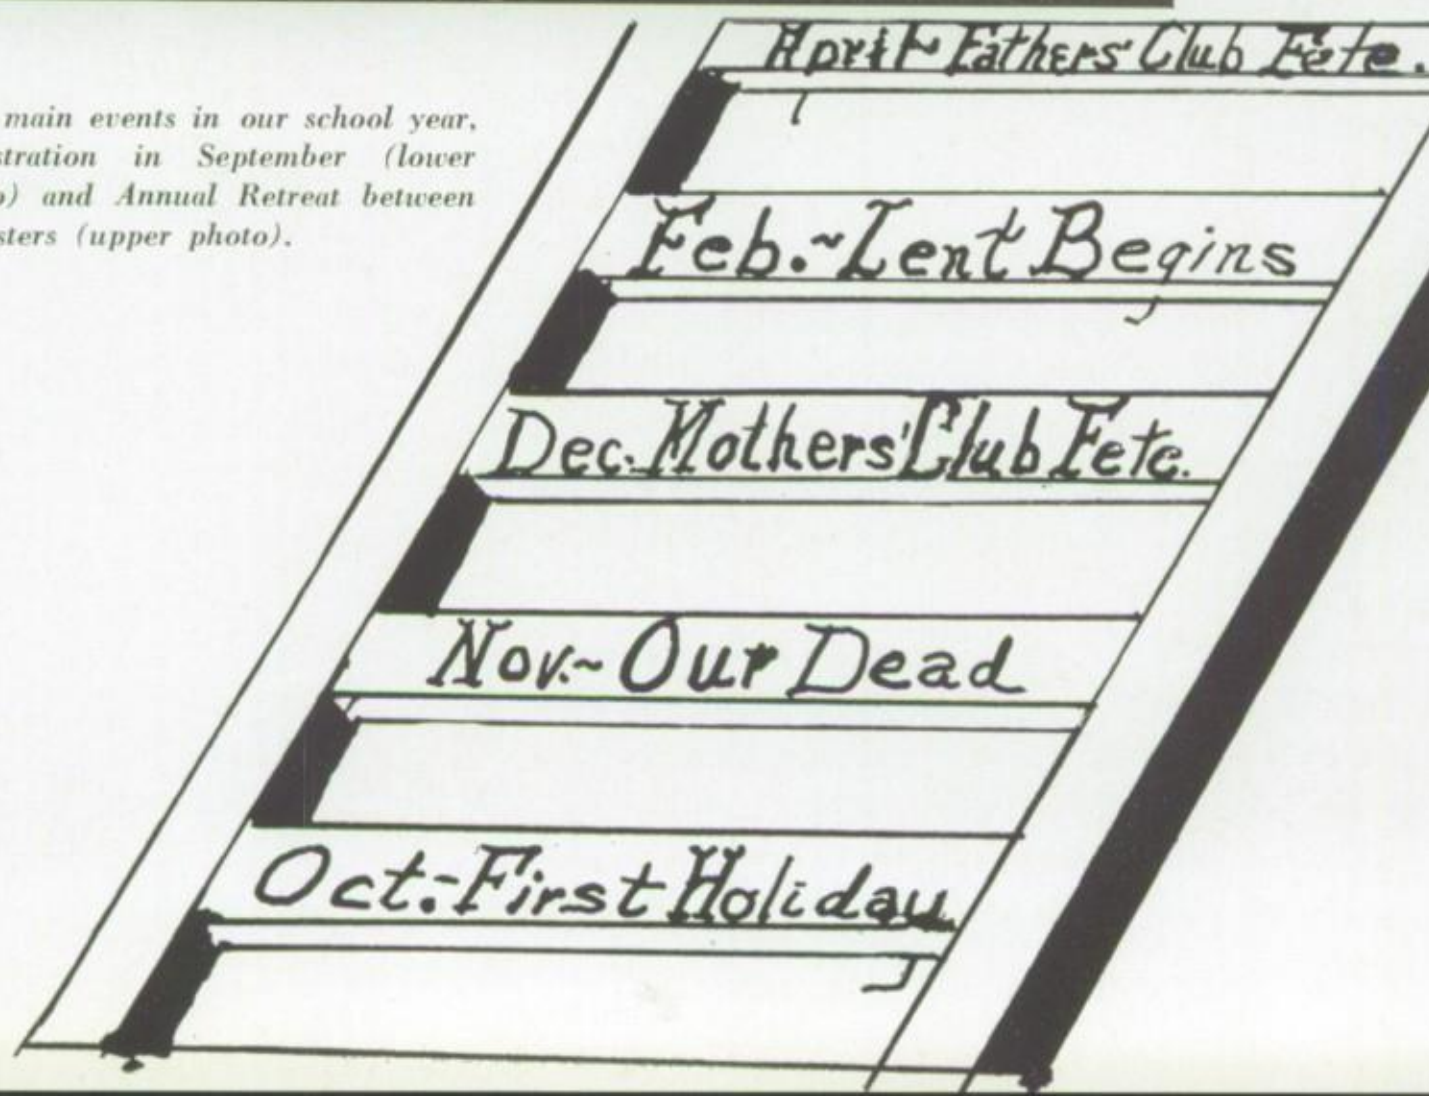

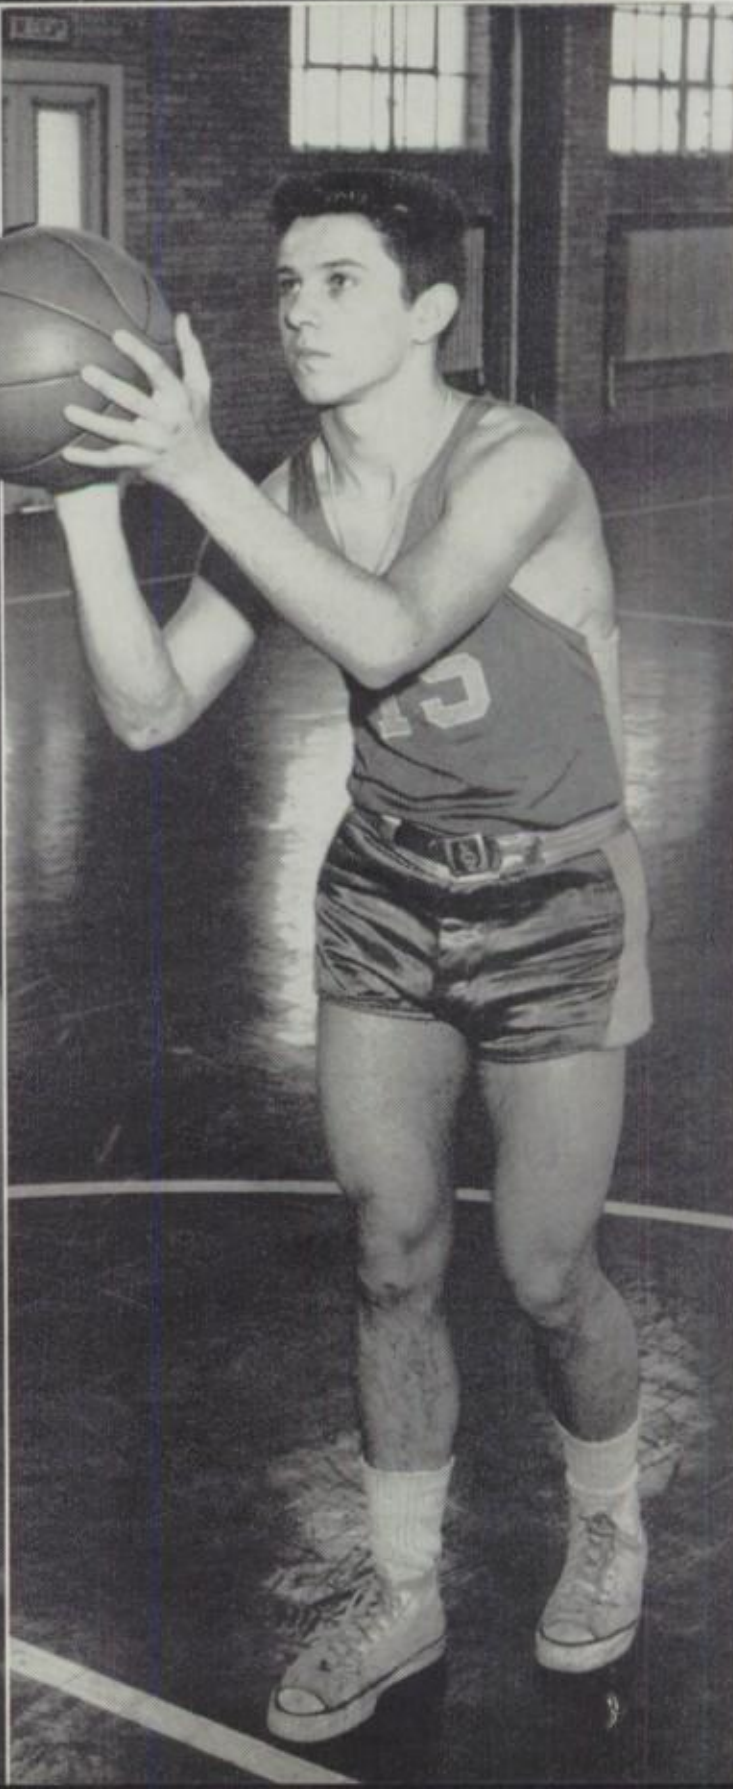

Another school year — and another Senior Class leaves the halls of Gordon Tech — this time as graduates. Like the commencement exercises in previous years, so too, this graduating class wished to make their commencement exercises from the beautiful St. Stanislaus Kostka Church, where for the last time as a group, the graduates might render humble thanks to the Source of Wisdom for His untold blessings through the four years and invoke in all humility His never-failing help for the more difficult and uncertain future.

Strengthened by the Presence of Him Who is in the Tabernacle, as well as by the presence of those who love them, our Seniors will leave the church with a courageous smile, knowing that they have the best example of facing their problems in Him Who became for all the Model and Pattern to be imitated.

A 'Win for Stevey' Brings No Classes

Gordon Tech Goes Wild —Ends Losses at 19

St. Philip 13-6

Upset Victim

By Tommy Kouganoff

There's joy today at 1456 W. Division st., where Gordon Tech's student body of 450 boys is celebrating the school's first Catholic League football victory.

But, coach Joe Osmanski's 30 players—including injured co-captain Steve Horvath, for whom the Rams "played" yesterday's 13-6 triumph over St. Philip—weren't around for the demonstrations.

This upset overshadowed St. George's 12-0 win over Fenwick in the North-Central section feature of the day at Soldier Field.

The Rev. Louis Gracz, C.R., Gordon Tech's principal, rushed down into their dressing room at Lane Stadium after the history-making game and rewarded them with a "free day" today, no classes.

FOOTBALL

Gordon, in the opener of the Catholic League, pulled the surprise of the day, by defeating highly regarded St. Philip 13-6. The victory was well deserved; it was also the first win for the Gordon Tech boys since joining the conference three years ago. Trailing 6-0 after three quarters, the Tech men intercepted for two fourth period touchdowns. For the first T.D., John Swieca climaxed a 40 yard Tech drive with a 5 yard plunge. Larry Murzyn, sophomore quarterback, snatched 5 yards, and Dennis Rytlewski converted to make it 13-6.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL TEAM

1955 will long be remembered as a season of undefeat for the Freshman Team. Although not the biggest team in number, it made up in determination and the sheer desire to win this numerical deficiency.

The "Freshie" Team is expected to give the Varsity the bench strength that a football team needs. Few of the "Freshie" players may obtain starting positions. May it serve as an inspiration to the Varsity.

BASKETBALL

Try try, and try again! Although the basketball teams have gone through another season without a victory, yet they did not cease to try. As the season rolled along, the teams improved. With each loss suffered, more basketball "savvy" was acquired by every Ram basketeer.

Basketball terms as , "half-court press", "fast-break", "1-2-2", "1-3-1", "five man weave", any many others will no longer baffle the Rams as was proven in the St. George, Holy Trinity Weber, Loyola, and De Paul games.

With the new experience acquired, the Rams are eagerly preparing for the next season. Each loss has renewed the team's determination to fight harder for victory in the future.

SWIMMING

The swimming team at Gordon Tech has completed its second year of competitive swimming under the direction of Mr. Brice Gonzales. This sport serves as an outlet for many students who cannot participate in other sports because of force of circumstances. It is a sport which builds character inasmuch as each member must learn to think for himself and be gracious not only in victory but also in defeat. Hard work and courage are the two badge marks of the swimming team at Gordon Tech.

Bowling Captains in session with their moderator, Mr. E. Wleklinski.

BOWLING

The bowling season has come to a very pleasant end. The popularity of this sport at Gordon Tech is attested to by the number of students who participate in it. The victors of this season were feted by the Fathers' Club on March 18, 1956 at the Easter party in the school cafeteria.

BOWLING CLUB CAPTAINS

J. Natzke, A. Jakubczyk, J. Sojka,
R. Gancarz, D. Samiec, H. Czerniak, J. Pawula,
J. Roscoe, R. Elkin, D. Tynus, K. Pajak, W.
Strenski, J. Zawilenski.

Foreground: Alice Rucinski; Clockwise, Alice Rucinski, Connie Pietrzak, Lucille Dziurdzik, Pat Kozlowski, Dolores Farris, Toni Winicki, Dorothy Podraza, Diane Sylvestri.

CHEERLEADERS

Although not a co-educational institution, Gordon Tech does not lack for beauty or enthusiasm on the part of the "fair sex". The cheerleading squad is made up of eight of the prettiest girls from the Holy Family Academy. Thru "thick or thin" the volubility of the girls and the stands at both fooball and basketball games was ever the same. Sportsmanship of the teams and the girls made for such enthusiasm — no matter what the score.

Special mention in our yearbook must be made of Alice Rucinski, a very pretty, blond senior from the Academy, who is the captain of the squad and who has to her record the fact that she hasn't missed a single game in the four years on the squad.

J. Datillo receives award from the Principal, Fr. L. Gracz, C.R.

FOOTBALL BANQUET

Fr. L. Gracz, C.R., makes presentation to E. Glasscott.

Fr. L. Cukierski, C.R., Athletic Director, explains purpose of football to group at banquet.

The football players were honored at a special Christmas Party sponsored by the Mothers' Club. Awards were presented to the most valuable players and the best sportsmen.

In a similar fete sponsored by the Fathers' Club in April, not only the Basketball players, but also, the Swimmers and Bowlers received their awards for a work well done in these particular sports.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Our gratitude and thanks to :

Fr. Louis A. Gracz, C.R., Principal, for his interest, generosity and permissions granted to the staff; Fr. Louis A. Tusinski, C.R., Assistant-Principal, for his untiring labors in behalf of the Patron Drive and great help rendered in preparing the final copy of the manuscript; Fr. John Bresden, C.R., for arranging underclassmen and Patron sequences both in copy and pictures; Fr. Peter Fiolek, C.R., editor of "The Banner" for his invaluable advice and excellent suggestions; Mr. Imil Valasek for his enthusiastic assistance in the art work; Mr. Karel O. Valasek, for his illustrations; Root Studios for their splendid courtesy, grand co-operation, and excellent photography; Mr. Mitchell for his time and professional guidance; Mr. Harold Beckett of DeLuxe Craft Studios for work on covers; and the Students and Faculty for their co-operation in the Patron Drive and interest displayed in the production of the "1956 Tech Log".

C. Myszkka and J. Lynn, Co-Editors with 1956 Tech Log Staff.
